USING POLITICAL SCIENCE TO SERVE DEMOCRACY

Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE) and Carter Center

Statistician for Election Observation Missions in Eastern Europe and Central Asia 2011-2018

Designed data collection forms and analysed observer reports for 12 OSCE/Carter Center missions in 7 countries

BBC

Psephologist/Statistician for BBC's election night analysis 2011-2022

Lead Programmer for BBC Exit Polls 2015, 2017, 2019

SERVING SOCIETY THROUGH RESEARCH IMPACT

Advised polling industry 2015-2017

Conducted research identifying non-representative samples as the crucial issue driving 2015 polling miss, particularly in terms of under-representing non-voters.

Based on my research published in Public Opinion Quarterly in 2016.

Presented results to the British Polling Council Polling Inquiry and as written and oral testimony to House of Lords Inquiry.

Two polling companies attribute changes in methodology and improved performance to my research

Work was finalist for ESRC Outstanding Impact in Society Prize

Advised UK electoral commission 2018-2022

My research showed that errors in registration systems led to turnout being underestimated by around 10 percentage points in the UK and that constituency boundaries were drawn incorrectly.

The Electoral Commission is considering changes to the way it reports turnout numbers on the basis of this work.

Submitted research as written evidence to the House of Lords Select Committee (08/09/2019)

Advised UNHCR on refugee survey sampling 2018

USING SYSTEMS TO SERVE THE WIDER COMMUNITY

Supply chain optimization for ingredient manufacturer 2019-2021

Used Systems Engineering tools to redesign the supply chain of a major US ingredient manufacturer to save 30
